Spencer's Winning Team Has Decided to Enter International Contest at St. Louis.

(Special to The Times, Dispatch.)

SALISBURY, N. C., August 4 .- The seventeenth annual session of the North Carolina Firemen's Tournament, which convened in this city Tuesday morning, closed this afternoon. The convention was pronounced by all to have been the largest, most interesting and profitable ever held in the State.

The programme for to-day opened with a very creditable hook and ladder exhibition race by the Greensboro team. Following the exhibition came the State championship hand reel races, covering 150 yards, and participated in by the commonship failth feel races, Covering the following teams, with time and prizes as indicated: Spencer, 25 seconds, first prize, $500; Charlotte Pioneer, 30 1-5 seconds, second prize, $50; Monroe, 37 2-5 seconds, third prize, $25; Eagle hose team, of Salem, entered and made an excellent run, but failed in connecting the hose at the plus.

Spencer still holds the warld's record, acquired at Durham last year. The grab reel contests were exciting and highly creditable, the following records being made on a run of, 200 yarda;

Spencer team, 19 seconds, winning first prize, $50; Eagle team, of Salem, 21 seconds, second prize, $30: Ploneer, of Charlotte, 23 2-5 speonds, third prize, $20.

WORLS'S CHAMPIONS.

The world's record in grab reel races of 20 seconds was lowered one second by Spencer, which now gives her the championship of the entire world, as well as of North Carolina.

This team has decided to enter the international contests at St. Louis, August 25th, and compete for the large prize weeks offered.

the contests of the tournament. The distance covered was 150 yards, and the entries follow: Plonger, of Charlotte, and Eagle team, of Salem, each made a record of $2.55 seconds, and the first and second prizes, $125 and $75, respectively, were equally divided. Charleston won the third prize of $30 in 30 seconds, and Mooroe followed in 33 seconds. The Capitol team, of Rajeigh, failed in coupling at plug, and the pozzle blew off for Spencer at 22 seconds. The thousands of speciators went alraost wild with enthusiasm.

SEVERE ACCIDENT.

Mr. John Cogill, driver of the Fayette-ville hose wagon, was severely injured this afternoon by the horse becoming unmanageable, dashing with terrific force against a livery building. The horse was also injured, and Mr. Cogill was carried to a hospital.

President James D. McNeill, of the State Firemen's Association, was slightly hjured this afternoon by a heavy man jumping on his style. The interstate hand reel races closed

KIDNAPPED AND CARRIED FAR AWAY

Daughter of Rich Dane Followed Across Seas and Found in Chicago.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch)
CHICAGO, August 4.-Wilhelm Jensen and his wife are under arrest here on a charge of klanapping Elsie Geilert, a little Danish girl of four years, and mark. The child is in the custody of George Been, acting consul in New George Been, acting consul in New York for the Danish government. The Kishapping charge is made by the child's father, who is said to be one of the wealthlest men in Denmark.

According to the detectives employed in the case, the Jensens disappeared with the child a year age. Up to the Um's of their disappearance they lived at Fredericia, Island of Juliand. The detectives traced them from there to America. The Jensens landed in New York with the little girl, but remained there only a short time. Their pursuers followed their trail to Erie, thence to Buffalo and Cleveland, and finally to this city.

In the year that the detectives have been searching for the child and its supposed abductors they have traveled more than six thousand miles. After their arrival in this country they were so close on the trail of the fugitives on two different occasions that they missed then by only a few hours.

The Jensens were hunted down at last in a house in North Haisted Street. They had the little girl with them and contended that they were in rightful possession of her, despite the reports that they had kidnapped her and demayded a ransom of $200,000 from the father for her return unharmed. With the detectives was acting Consul Beeh, who was armed with extradition papers and the correspondence over the case that took place between this government and that of Denmark.

The Jensens were locked up pending a hearing before United States Commissions.

given into the custody of the acting

The shades of night were falling fast, The clouds were full of wet, A trailey car went rolling past, When Bill and Mary met. She wore her summer clothes, and lo! Her hat was made of paper; She was au fall, and just to show She cut the proper caper.

"Let's take a walk," said Bill to Mary,
"And see the Dreumland sights;
Well stay in Concy all the day,
Until they douse the lights."

They sat out on the beach and dug Their feet into the sand. Admired sleamer, yucht and tug— Their minds were off the land.

He handed us the message: "I will see you at 7."

She was a gay girl, and visions of a pleasant ovening floated about us, as we felt what a nice time we would have at 7. We asked our friend Campbell to go with us, and we started.

Now we didn't know the New York code of etiquette, and we couldn't figure call whether it were hest to eat something before 7, run chances of catching supper at her heme, or take her out fer a swell dinner at Martin's.

Then the clouds lowered.

We thought it would rain every minute, and we didn't have an umbrefal.

Cuten have we been pointed out as the fellow who lacked sense anough to go in out of the rain, and we didn't want it to happen in New York, forninse iteraid Equage.

So we went over to Wanarasker's to

So we went over to Wanaraaker's to get a $2.48 hist.
"Now, John," we said, "shall we cat before we go, or take the chances?"
"Well, I don't want to sit in the parlor and starve to death, and I can't tell her I'm hungry, for that ain't according to Hoyle."
We raised the new umbrella and went over to Child's.
It was 7, and we had to get to Seventeenth Street and Fourth Avenue before 600.

It was 7, and we had to get to Seventeenth Street and Fourth Avenue before 6:00.

We ordered a coffee and some sinkers, and John chose a steak.

We got ours at 7:18, and it was long toward 7:45, when the steak same.

"Do you think we'll get there by 7?" muttered John between steaks.

Not thinkings so, we looked out at the rain in silence.

At 8:02 we again stood on Eroasway.

A poor woman in a picture hat and French heels appeared before us and said she was starving to death amid plenty; would we help her along We gave her a treet car fare, and nonchaleatly suggested that the street ears might help her along better than we could.

We had been to New York before.

And the rain had stopped.

"Ch! for some Moxic," said John,

"Blue Ribbon for us," we said.

And we walked on to Union Square in our chase to overtuke 7 o'elock.

On the carner of Usion Square we met Dave Kline.

"Come up to my fist," he said, and we showed John where the house was dens it.

We showed John where the house was
We showed John where and west with

She carried in her little paw
A parasol so neat,
And when she are she simply gorged
Herself from head to feet.

All right," said Mary, "let's take a walk Down to the Steeplechase, And then we'll hear the parrot talk And find the bathing place."

They took the trolley car that night, It gives me pain to may. That Mary got back home a sight— Her clothes got wet that day.
